DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 8-28-2007 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 9-11, 13-19, 21-23, 27-29, 31-34, 40-41 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Vailliancourt USPN 3,565,078.

Vailliancourt teach a device having a valve member inside a lumen of tube 2,1. The examiner considers the proximal portion of the lumen to extend just short of the valve slit to form a tapered proximal channel portion and the distal channel which the valve member expands in. The examiner considers the slit portion of the valve to be an expandable collar capable of gripping (or clamping) a lead pin of the shape of member 3 by and interference fit. Applicant's statements of intended use impart no structural distinction since the valve member of Vailliancourt is capable of grabbing a lead pin as explained above, as well as receive a stylet. The proximal portion can be used as a gripping surface as well as extending end 9. The asymmetry of the device as well as the extension 1 could indicate rotation depending on how the tool is rotated about a pivot point in the distal portion. Regarding claim 28, extension 1 could be gripped when rotating the tool about the lumen axis. Regarding claim 33, the inner lumen surface at the junction between the proximal and distal portion is capable of operating as a bearing when inserting elements into the lumen.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 30 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vailliancourt USPN 3,565,078. Providing ridges on the proximal portion of the Vailliancourt device would have been a well known and obvious design choice to aid in gripping the device.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-41 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-8, 12, 20, 24-26, 35-39 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
